Dear Mr. Barrett:

Re: SRB File 96-1001

Further to our letter dated February 28, 1996, the Yukon Surface Rights Board (the "Board") has approved its Rules and have enclosed them to assist you in your application to the Board.

The Yukon Surface Rights Board Act states that a person cannot apply to the Board for an order unless the person has attempted to resolve the matter in dispute by negotiation in accordance with the Rules. Under the Rules, if a person has made negotiation efforts in good faith to resolve the dispute, then the Board will accept the application for an access order.

Sections 3 and 4 of the Rules identify what is required in order to apply to the Board for an access order and the requirements to prove that you attempted to negotiate with the First Nation of Na-Cho Nyak Dun. Once you have met these requirements, the Board will be able to proceed with the necessary processes within its rules in order to ensure that your application can be dealt with in a timely manner.

If you have any questions, please contact me at the above number.

Sincerely,

Stephen J. Mills
Chair
